Hotel Lord Byron

Via Giuseppe De Notaris, 5 - 00197 ROME

Carefully tucked away in the exclusive Parioli quarter of Rome, but just a few steps from Villa Borghese, the "Dolce Vita" of Via Veneto and a stroll in the park away from Piazza di Spagna, distinguished travellers reside at the exquisite Hotel Lord Byron. This prime location allows Guests the best of both worlds: the vicinity to the bustling Eternal City's main attractions and the opportunity to relax in a most placid private atmosphere.

Hotel Lord Byron brings hospitality to new levels; the more than impeccable service makes it readily apparent that the well-being of its Guests is the first and foremost priority. The rooms and suites, recently restored in the Thirties art-déco style, are luxuriously comfortable and unique to the hotel. A spectacular terrace further add to the property's character and enable Guests to unwind in the beautiful setting . . . Everything from the elegant furnishings, linens, and flowers, to the outstanding staff demonstrates the hotel's close attention to detail and pride with which its services are delivered.

Decorated in the Thirties art-déco style guestrooms and suites radiate warmth and intimacy. Rooms on the upper floors are marked by extreme attention to detail, vintage marble baths and views over stately villas and pristine park. Each and every room unique, many contain sweeping mirrors, sumptuous beds, spacious baths and closet/dressing area.

The "Sapori del Lord Byron" restaurant's menu features a creative variety of regional dishes and choice of the best Italian wines.

The Cellar is stocked with a wide assortment of wines ranging from those produced in some of the most famous Italian and foreign wine regions as well as those of small local wine producers, thereby making the most of the "SAPORI del Lord Byron" restaurant and its esteemed cuisine. Winner of the "Award of Excellence" granted by Wine Spectator magazine in 2008.

Extremely talented, the restaurant's Chef demonstrates a remarkable comprehension and respect for Italian tradition, captivating the authentic vibrance of such fare.

"Sapori del Lord Byron" provides the ultimate setting, whatever the occasion, for a memorable dining experience.

Open from Monday to Saturday at lunch from 12:30 to 2:30 p.m. and at dinner from 8:00 p.m. to 10:30 p.m.
